

ES&E Magazine Author's Guidelines

Thank you for your interest in submitting an article for consideration. We welcome manuscripts on any professional environmental issues including: Water treatment; Wastewater treatment; Climate change; Groundwater issues; Stormwater management; Site remediation; Hazardous waste management; Infrastructure, including trenchless technologies; Laboratory issues; Legal affairs; Insurance; and any political or economic issues which affect the work of environmental professionals.

Feature Articles: We prefer articles around 1,500 – 2,000 words long. Subject should be treated generically. Avoid self complimentary wording about your company or technology. Also, your company name or product name should not be mentioned more than once per paragraph. Trademarks/names should only be noted once.

Author Information: Please provide names, titles, company names and email addresses for the article's authors. ES&E includes the author's email in the article for readers seeking more information. We can also include Twitter and LinkedIn account handles.

Multimedia: Sending good quality photos, graphs and video with your article will increase the likelihood of publication. Clearly identify each file by using a descriptive file name and provide captions for all photos submitted. Also, please make sure that ES&E is granted copyrights to use all photos and artwork submitted for the magazine and our Website - this is your responsibility. For videos to be included in the web version of your article, please provide an URL and embed code.

For high quality reproduction, we need high-resolution (300 dpi) files of photos and graphics. Files may be zipped in order to keep the file size as small as possible when emailing. DO NOT SEND GRAPHS, PICTURES OR TABLES EMBEDDED IN YOUR WORD DOCUMENT, AS THE RESOLUTION IS TOO LOW FOR US TO USE.

How and where to send your article: Email the text of your article in a word file. Email all photos and other graphics as separate attachments in TIFF, JPEG or EPS format. Please email your article and photo files to peter@esemag.com

If you are sending files larger than 5 megabytes, please contact our assistant editor Peter Davey at peter@esemag.com

Terms and Conditions

- ES&E reserves the right to edit and/or decline to publish all submissions.
- ES&E does not send back typeset articles for author review/approval. Only send us the final/approved draft of your article.
- Please advise if your article has been, or will be, published in any other Canadian magazine within a four month period of submitting it to ES&E.
- As per recognized copyright laws, ES&E holds all copyrights to the graphic depiction of articles published in ES&E Magazine and on www.esemag.com. This means no reproduction of articles as they appeared in ES&E can be made, without written permission.
- All articles and photos published in ES&E magazine will appear on our website.
